

"Bumble Bee" name both sides

BUMBLE BEE

R52Y

1

cream band

Note:
louvers left side only
exhaust right side only

R52Y

R52Y

Keith Rider R-2, 1933 version "Bumble Bee"
Volare Products - 10/97

silver overall, black lettering, cream band
this plane carried at least three different paint jobs
all different, but the airframe did not change until 1938 when the plane was know as "the Bushey-McGrew Special"
that plane was significantly redesigned and not represented here. The "Bumble Bee" was first known as the "Miss San Francisco II" the R-2 was powered by a Menasco 4 cyl.

reference: E.A.A. Golden Age of Air Racing